Supported by a generous grant provided by the Comprehensive Minority Biomedical Program of the National Cancer Institute

The American Association for Cancer Research (AACR) is extremely pleased to announce the availability of Awards in Cancer Research for full-time faculty members of Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs). Supported by a generous grant provided by the Comprehensive Minority Biomedical Program of the National Cancer Institute, AACR-HBCU Faculty Awards in Cancer Research will be presented annually by the American Association for Cancer Research to scientists at the level of Assistant Professor or above at an HBCU who are engaged in meritorious basic, clinical, or translational cancer research.

The purpose of this Award program is to increase the scientific knowledge base of faculty members at Historically Black Colleges and Universities, and to encourage them and their students to pursue careers in cancer research. Award recipients will receive financial support for their participation in the 89th AACR Annual Meeting, March 28-April 1, 1998, in New Orleans, LA. The 1998 AACR Annual Meeting will attract approximately 7,500 scientists from around the world; will provide the latest findings in the most rapidly developing areas of basic, clinical, and translational cancer research; and will feature major presentations from prominent scientists who are making important advances in the field.

The American Association for Cancer Research, a scientific society of more than 13,500 researchers working in all subfields of basic, clinical and translational cancer research, is extremely pleased to sponsor this faculty award.
