Supplemental Figure 1. Representative sample of tumor cells removed from ovarian cancer tissue using laser-capture microdissection. Laser-capture microdissection was performed on 12 patients for whom both primary and recurrent ovarian tumor was available. Paraffin-embedded tissues were used and care was taken to ensure that no stromal cells were collected.